

---

Our Key Messages

- Drastic increase of economic losses due to natural disasters
- Climate change will increase the risk from atmospheric natural hazards, with major negative impacts
- Precautionary approach
- Climate change means risks and opportunities to the financial sector
- Financial products and services for emission reductions and trading are available and/or in development
- Long-term international and national frameworks based on market mechanisms are needed