

Invitation to roundtable debate in Copenhagen during COP15 on Risks, insurance and investments - Supporting low carbon energy technologies

Copenhagen, November 2009

The United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), WWF and RSA invite you to participate in a high level roundtable debate on the barriers and opportunities in relation to ensuring the development of low carbon technologies in the emerging markets and the developing world.

The goal of the roundtable is to bring together a number of key stakeholders representing private and public investors, donors, beneficiaries and the insurance industry as well as representatives from national governments and international organizations to discuss how to develop a framework that can remove the barriers hampering investments in low carbon energy technologies.

The conclusions from the roundtable will be presented by UNEP at a side event at the COP15 negotiations later the same day.

Opening statements and welcome by

- Rickard Gustafson - Director, RSA Scandinavia
- Mr. Achim Steiner - Executive director at UNEP
- Ken Norgrove - CEO, RSA Group Renewable Energy

Speakers

- Mr. Nick Robins, Head of HSBC's Climate Change Centre of Excellence, HSBC Bank
- Dr. Peter Hoeppe, Head of Corporate Climate Center, Munich Re

When

Thursday, December 17, 2009 from: 8:30-13:30

Where

The WWF Arctic Tent, at Nytorv in the centre of Copenhagen

Participation by invitation only

Please confirm your participation before December 4 by e-mail to: Nicolaj Egerod at nicolaj.egerod@hillandknowlton.com

Programme and additional information

Please find the programme enclosed with this invitation

For additional information or questions please contact Nicolaj Egerod at the above email or at phone no. +45 20 98 64 47.

Organizers

Supported by

